Gain the peace of mind that comes from knowing that what you care about is protected, whether you're at home or away. Resideo's LifeWhere works by learning about your home system's performance so that it can detect the slightest change—automatically alerting your service tech to small problems before they become large, which can help you save money while protecting your home.

YOU CAN'T KEEP AN EYE ON YOUR HVAC SYSTEM 24/7, BUT LIFEWHERE CAN

Help avoid system breakdowns all year long.

LifeWhere continually learns about your heating and air conditioning system's performance. If it senses that anything is happening that could reduce efficiency or otherwise affect performance, your contractor will be alerted. That way, you'll always know your system is functioning properly.

Because LifeWhere can detect variances in your heating and air conditioning system's performance, your contractor will be alerted to potential trouble as soon as it begins so that you can take care of it before the issue becomes larger. This protects both your comfort and your wallet.

Unlike a traditional maintenance agreement that checks your equipment 1-2 times a year, LifeWhere works 365 days a year. By analyzing performance data and helping your contractor keep your system optimized and protected, your system can last longer.

- Monitor your system so you can keep it operating at peak performance
- Helps protect you against major system failures
- Go beyond annual checkups to help protect and preserve your equipment

- Monitors your system 24/7
- Know you're protected at home or away
- Automatically alerts your service provider if a problem occurs
