

Technology Partnership: Resideo Intrusion & PDK Access Control

By integrating Resideo alarm systems powered by TC2.0 with PDK's cloud-native access control platform, dealers can deliver a unified security solution with shared user management and entry-to-disarm functionality. This integration simplifies installation and management while giving customers a convenient, connected security experience—without compromise.

Two critical systems. One seamless experience.

Why this matters for you and your customers:

- Unified intrusion and access control for reliable security oversight
- Scalable solution ideal for commercial, multi-site, and mixed-use environments
- Provides end users with a modern, integrated security experience

Integrating ProdataKey with Resideo security systems offers a powerful solution for enhancing security and day-to-day efficiency. This combination helps strengthen security and simplifies management across various industries. As security threats and technology evolve, integrating systems like this helps ensure safety.
