

Five Questions with

TERESA LUTERBACH

Key Account Manager, Minnesota

WHAT'S YOUR BEST CAREER ADVICE?

Two things, which my first manager taught me

- Your career is yours to manage – don't expect someone else to do it for you. Look for career prospects that interest you, and don't be afraid to ask for what you want.
- Your priorities might not be the same as your peers'. However, to be a good leader, you need to find a way to make other peoples' priorities a priority.

WHAT WORD DESCRIBES YOU BEST?

Caring. I care deeply about the team and want to nurture peoples' skills.

WHO HAS BEEN YOUR GREATEST MENTOR?

My greatest mentor to date was the vice president of information technology at Honeywell in 1995. He is the one who interviewed me and hired me in one go. He has always encouraged me to boost my career and to always be open to opportunities so that I don't necessarily pigeonhole myself.

WHAT DO YOU ENJOY MOST ABOUT YOUR JOB?

The greatest satisfaction comes from working in the national account team. We work hard and play hard. They recognize that the entire team brings something different to the table, and we are all willing to share our unique skills with the team. I have always mentored the new team members starting a new career.

WHAT'S SOMETHING MOST PEOPLE DON'T KNOW ABOUT YOU?

I don't think a lot of people know that my team and I are super close – we are like family. We are open and honest with each other and know exactly what each ones' strengths are. We help each other and have grown together over the years, I know that I can always count on them. Each one of us has different skills and always jump in to help regardless of who the owner of the account is.
